Invitation to Sustainable Procurement Workshop

Almost all organisations commit to support ESG (Environmental, Social, and Governance) in their operations but their procurement decisions still have centred on cost and quality. Stakeholders have increasingly recognised supply chains cannot be overlooked in this commitment.

This workshop is designed to empower procurement and supply chain professionals with the knowledge and practical tools to embed sustainability into their operations. Participants will explore how to balance cost efficiency with ethical, environmental, and social considerations, driving long-term value creation and resilience.
