
Felix Lam

MEC, B.Soc.Sci, MCIPS, MIPSHK
Professional Member of ISM
Certified Factory Auditor

Felix is a seasoned procurement and supply chain professional with over 30 years of experience spanning corporate leadership, sustainability advocacy, and professional training.

He has served as a guest lecturer at PolyU since 2020, thereafter to IPSHK, HKU SPACE, HKMA and BEC. His teaching emphasizes sustainable procurement and supply chain, ESG integration, and supply chain governance, tailored to both public and private sector audiences.

Felix currently serves as Directors of The Institute of Purchasing and Supply of Hong Kong Ltd and the Institute for Supply Management (Hong Kong) Ltd, where he promotes professional excellence and fosters communication among industry members.

He previously held the position of Head of Sustainability at the Green Council for 7 years, where he championed corporate sustainability through training programs and seminars, membership and award schemes, consultancy and stakeholder engagement.

His corporate career also included 27 distinguished years at Towngas, culminating in his role as Head of the Corporate Supplies Department. He oversaw 90 employees in centralized procurement, warehousing, and logistics in Hong Kong and supply chain oversight for over 130 joint ventures in Mainland China.

Professional

Members of Chartered Institute of Procurement & Supply, since 1994

Professional Members of Institute for Supply Management, since 2009

Member of The Institute of Purchasing & Supply of Hong Kong, since 2016

Diploma on Certified Factory Auditor, by Hong Kong Productivity Council, since 2008